Addiction is the term given to a pattern of behaviour that causes negative consequences for the individual. Most people assume that addiction refers only to those who have a compulsive need for a particular substance such as tobacco. However, in reality, it is possible to become addicted to almost anything. To be clear, this condition occurs when a person continues to do something despite knowing that it will have an adverse impact on his or her life. Because of the various causes and triggers, there are many different types of addictions. Therefore to spread awareness about tobacco effects ‘National Service Scheme’ unit of AISSMS COE, PUNE-01 drive a awareness campaign at Shaniwarwada, Pune under guidance of P.O.-:Dr.N.N.Shejwal on 2nd Oct,2019. Report

Women hygiene is as important as women safety. Our own personal health depends upon a level of cleanliness to keep us free from disease, such as skin diseases, respiratory diseases or gastro intestinal diseases. Factors such as sweating, menstruation (having your period) and vaginal discharge make personal hygiene vital, to prevent body odour and to maintain health. As carers, women prepare food for others, clean for others and carry out personal hygiene for children. This means that women are at risk of spreading germs and hence disease. So it is needed to spread awareness about hygiene in girls and women. The girls in National Service Scheme unit gave information about hygiene to the girls student of Zilla Parishad school.

Report

Our NSS unit conducted a one day “Rakhi Making Workshop” on the 9th of August, 2019 in our college basement to make beautiful rakhis for our soldier brothers who serve day and night for us. In this approximately 60 students actively came forward to take up this work.

In this context, NSS volunteers had taken a lead and extended the helping hand to others and also guided them to achieve this target.

In this workshop, first of all we all introduced ourselves and then exchanged various ideas of making handmade rakhis. All the material required such as different colour wool, scissors, fevicol, chart and craft papers and other decorative materials were provided by the NSS Unit Volunteers. After all the discussion of ideas we all spllited into two groups and started with our respective work.

For this workshop our target was to make 1000 Rakhis for the soldiers. One of the group started off by making rakhis with different colour wool and other decorative items wherelse the other group used chart/craft papers to make the rakhis. The unit also had a provision where the students, teaching and non-teaching staff could give their readymade rakhis along with their messages in the collection box before the due date.

After all the hard work done by everyone at the end, we successfully completed our set target of making 1000 rakhis and by the end of the day these beautiful rakhis we ready to be couriered to our soldiers.

Report

Addiction is the term given to a pattern of behaviour that causes negative consequences for the individual. Most people assume that addiction refers only to those who have a compulsive need for a particular substance such as alcohol or drugs. However, in reality, it is possible to become addicted to almost anything. To be clear, this condition occurs when a person continues to do something despite knowing that it will have an adverse impact on his or her life. Because of the various causes and triggers, there are many different types of addictions. According to the

Dr.D. S. Bormane

Magnitude of Substance Use in India report submitted by the National Drug Dependence Treatment Centre of the All-India Institute of Medical Sciences to the Ministry in February this year, 1.3% of children between 10 and 17 years reported current use of alcohol, 0.9% reported use of cannabis, 1.8% reported use of opioid and 1.17% reported use of inhalants. According to the 2017 report by United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC), 255 million people worldwide use illicit drugs, of which 29.5 million suffered from drug use-related disorders. So it is necessary to spread awareness about addiction and its drawbacks over the young generation .

In this context, NSS volunteer had taken a lead and extended the helping hand to manage and support De-addiction workshop. The workshop Schedule is given in following table,
