Department of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning Organized Expert Talk

“India Start-up Day”

On Date: 01st October 2025

Report for IIC submission

Title: “India Startup Day”

The Department of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning, in association with AISSMS College of Engineering and its Institution’s Innovation Council (IIC), organized an Expert Talk on “India Startup Day” and celebrated A.P.J. Abdul Kalam Week on 01st October 2025.

1.Objectives of the Program:

The primary objective of the Expert Talk on “India Startup Day” was to promote innovation, creativity, and entrepreneurial thinking among students of the Department of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning, AISSMS COE. The event aimed to enlighten students about India’s dynamic startup ecosystem and the role of innovation in driving growth and societal impact. The session sought to encourage students to think beyond conventional boundaries, identify real-world challenges, and convert their innovative ideas into viable startup ventures. It also focused on nurturing problem-solving abilities, leadership qualities, and teamwork essential for entrepreneurial success. By connecting students with an experienced innovation ambassador, the program aimed to motivate them to actively participate in India’s growing innovation and startup movement.

2. Participants' Benefits:

The Expert Talk delivered by Mr. Milind Sadashiv Swami, Innovation Ambassador, provided invaluable insights into India's evolving startup landscape. Students gained a comprehensive understanding of how innovation-driven thinking can lead to the creation of impactful business ventures. The interactive session helped participants identify realworld problems and guided them on how to develop an entrepreneurial mindset to address these challenges effectively.

Through engaging discussions and real-life case studies, students enhanced their teamwork, creativity, and leadership skills. They also learned about various government initiatives and support mechanisms available for budding entrepreneurs. The talk inspired students to view entrepreneurship as a path for societal development and self-reliance.

Overall, the event was a great success, motivating more than 50 students from the AIML department to explore innovation and entrepreneurship. It encouraged them to contribute actively to India's growing startup ecosystem and laid a foundation for future innovationdriven projects within the institution.
